SPECTRUM 1985

PEOPLE:

The complete picture of Rowan Technical College focusses on two main subjects. The main part of that picture is people: people working with each other, working alone, working with the new, working with the old and familiar. No picture of Rowan Tech would be complete without all of these elements.

THE CAMPUS

The other subject in a picture of Rowan Tech is the place. The campus completes a picture of Rowan Tech. The buildings, the changing seasons: these provide the setting for our work together.

STUDENT LIFE

WOMEN CAPTURE STATE TITLE

After a weekend's worth of softball, Rowan Tech's Women's team won their fourth straight North Carolina Comprehensive Community College Student Government Association title. The tournament was hosted by Rowan Tech and held at Ferguson Park in Gastonia. Eddic Myers and Vernon Clodfelter coached the team. The huge trophy will be kept in the Student Center — as soon as we find the space!!

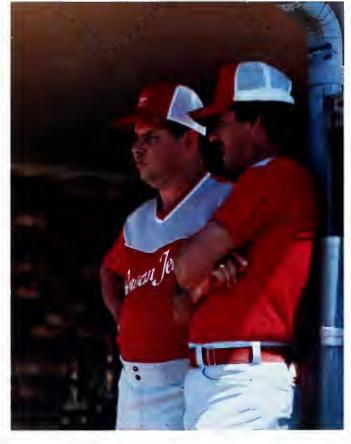

MEN SECOND IN STATE

Coached by Ken Hayes, Buddy Lowman, and Ken Mullis, the Rowan Tech Men's team battled to a second place finish in the N4CSGA tournament April 20-21, 1985. Last year's title winners, RTC's men finished in the top three in the previous years' tournaments. We've got softball teams to be proud of! They're picture perfect.

FOCUS ON RECREATION

We don't study all the time. Part of our picture of Rowan Tech is our finding ways to relax — alone and with each other, on campus and off. Intramural basketball was held at Granite Quarry Elementary School.

Whenever the weather is good, chances are you'll see a quick volleyball game in between classes. That volleyball net is an almost permanent part of our campus picture.

FOCUS ON FASHION

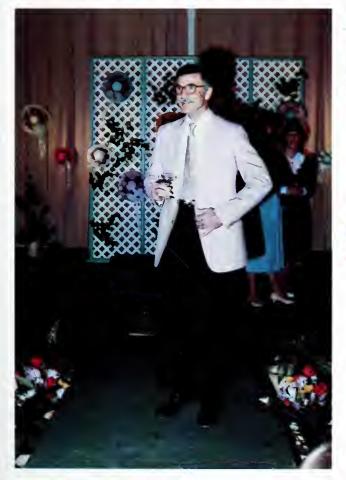

The Marketing and Retailing students developed the annual fashion show; this year, "An Affair with Spring." Playing to a full house in the Teaching Auditorium, the models put in as much time behind the scenes as on stage.

Dean Grady Lloyd served as M.C. for the show. Participating local merchants included Link's, Cato, D.A. Kelly, Belk-Harry, Thread Shed, Somthing Special, Mister Jeans, American Scene, Ellie's, Anne's, La Nichole. The flowers and stage props were by Raper's.

FIELD DAY

FALL 1984

All of us, faculty, staff, and students, took a day off Friday October 12. After a picnic lunch, there was a variety of activity: softball, tug-of-war, volleyball, miniature golf, and basketball. SGA sponsored the college family event.

SGA HALLOWEEN PARTY

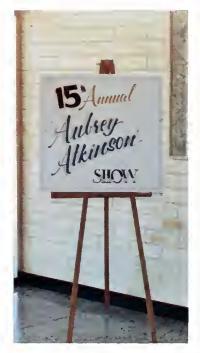

SGA President Cedric Ramsey welcomed a visitor from Bat's Cave Community College. Other guests included local Munchkins and their escorts, as well as a wierd man holding a styrofoam cup. Music by a jazz band (including our own Bill Hahn and visiting artist Chris Deane) and refreshments were arranged by the Student Government Association.

ANNUAL SPRING ART SHOW

Between April 14 and May 10, the 100 Building came alive with color. Paintings, photographs, stitchery, and jewelry by members of the Rowan Art Guild brightened our hallways. The 15th Annual Aubrey Atkinson Spring Show displayed over two hundred works.

Chris Simpson of our LCR staff demonstrates weaving to a young and interested bystander. Chris displayed beautiful samples of her work.

Sweet Sunny South entertains with some great sounding bluegrass music.

Jim Yates, Associate Dean of Evening Programs, works with wood to make a long-handled hoe. Jim also displayed his own elegant, handwoven baskets.

With the woods behind the LRC as backdrop, the Piedmont Folk Festival was held Saturday April 27. It featured traditional music and crafts, as well as Master classes and workshops in claw hammer banjo playing, music arranging for lap dulcimer, and playing the hammer dulcimer. Most of the day, however, was spent enjoying good music.

... AND THE WINNER IS MARTHA WHITE

Martha White, LPN curriculum, was elected Miss Rowan Tech in October. As Miss Rowan Tech, Martha represented us in local Christmas parades in Cabarrus and Rowan Counties. She was crowned at the Halloween Party in the Student Center.

GRADUATION SPRING 1985

Keppel Auditorium at Catawba College was the setting for RTC's commencement ceremony. This year, the students wore dark grey robes, the color designated for two-year degree recipients. They wore academic hoods bearing the college's colors, blue and white. Harold Kenerly, Board of Trustees chair, congratulated the students as they crossed the stage. Grady Lloyd, Dean of Students, briefed he students before the event (below).

It's a proud moment — and a happy one — for students, families, and friends. They all worked hard to make it happen.

VISITING ARTIST CHRISTOPHER DEANE

For the past two years, Chris Deane has been our visiting artist. An accomplished percussionist, Chris plays the hammer dulcimer and xylophone, among other instruments. And he certainly played in a variety of settings. Here, he's pictured with a Rowan Tech eccentric as he played in a jazz trio at the Halloween party; and he's pictured in performance with the Charlotte Symphony.

JERRY AND 9 LINE COME TO RTC

Spring Quarter brought a visit from Channel 9 Charlotte's TV weatherman, Jerry Peterson. He interviewed a variety of people asking about current events (the MOVE fire in Philadelphia, the image of the US abroad, the legislation of marijuana) and about personal opinions (what's your dream job, what do you like about Rowan Tech). The interviews were shown on the evening news for a week. Some of us are still waiting for Hollywood to call.

AS MARK TWAIN SAID . . .

Working in the Traditional educational places at RTC: shops and labs, study tables . . . with the traditional elements: computers, typewriters, shop equipment, and books.

"NEVER LET EDUCATION INTERFERE WITH YOUR LEARNING."

And then there's that non-traditional, non-educational learning! Let's enjoy ourselves!

DESKS AT ROWAN TECH: "A PLACE FOR EVERYTHING . .

These people claim the logic of their office space and desks makes sense to them. "Messy? Moi?" says Janet Leazer, Occupational Education Administrative Assistant (top left). Clockwise, other neatniks include award-winning Charlie Benson, Physics Instructor; Linda Garmon, LRC secretary; and Brenda Agnew, Continuing Education secretary.

. . . AND EVERYTHING IN ITS PLACE."

(Clockwise from the top) Virginia Odom, Secretarial Science Instructor, insists her desk is neat. Vernon Clodfelter, EDP Instructor, claims there is method to the madness. Anthony Slate, Occupational Extension Coordinator, smiles knowingly.

LRC STAYS THE SAME ... AND CHANGES

Inside, life was pretty much the same in the Learning Resources Center this year. People studied there, and the staff continued the regular business of keeping records and reshelving materials. But while they worked this Spring Quarter, the sounds of construction punctuated their routines.

The walls of the LRC were repaired because the original support beams were placed too far apart. As a result, cracks had begun to cause damage to the building. Repair crews set up scaffolding and began their work with the noisy business of removing all the brick on the outside walls. Inside, carrels were moved, the Individualized Instruction Center was temporarily closed, and occasionally the great out-of-doors was visible where there once were walls.

SGA ACTIVITIES 1984-85

Over the year, the SGA sponsored a variety of activities including the Miss Rowan Tech election, Field Day in Fall and Spring, and a Halloween Party. Pictured here are student elections, run by SGA; voter registration for Cabarrus and Rowan Counties; and North Carolina Community College Student Government Association softball.

1985 SPECTRUM YEARBOOK STAFF

Students in English 121 worked on the 1985 annual. Karen Harrill types copy, proofread by Lisa Byerly. Advisor Carolyn Schneider and Lisa Cooper (below) get a few pages ready for the publisher.

Completing the yearbook staff are, left, Chessie Smith, Andora Collins, and Jill Moore. Sorting through pictures are (seated) Myra Poteat and Robin Heilig.
